

Your Partner for Success

Whatever opportunity you are looking for — from a large hospital system in an urban setting to a small physician group in a rural community, we can help you find the ideal practice and place to call home.

At Strelcheck, we:

- Are interested in you, your family and your exact desires.
- Present only those opportunities that meet your professional and personal needs.
- Understand that your time is valuable and will discuss practice opportunities at a time that is convenient for you.
- Keep your information confidential and only share it with clients with your permission.
- Always meet face-to-face to obtain first-hand information about each individual practice opportunity and community.
- Are a proud member of the National Association of Physician Recruiters and adhere to a strict code of ethics.
